ORGANIZATION NEWS

Do you make installation or wall work? Have you worked with designers, art consultants on commissions on pieces for commercial spaces or clinics? Have you produced work for restaurants?

We're forming a small member's group to help MNWCA build a prince in the interior design/restaurant/hospitality industry.

Please join us if you're interested in promoting your work to commercial resources. Also, if you have contacts of experience in the industry, please pass your information along to us. Contact Colleen at eurekapots@gmail.com - please write "commercial as the subject line.

Are you interested in selling work at non-traditional pop-up-type events?

We'd like to build upon the huge success of the MNWCA Lakes and Legends NCECA event (thank you, Kristine!) and create more opportunities for members to sell directly at similar venues. We're forming a group that will research and plan future similar events. Please join us to help or share your experiences and resources! Contact Colleen at eurekapots@gmail.com- please write 'pop-up' as the subject line.

We're starting a SALON!

This is a fancy name for a small group that gathers to discuss specific topics in an intimate setting. Here's how it works: a member chooses a theme for discussion, and MNWCA works with the member to set a date/location, and promoting through social media. The Salon would occur at regular intervals, with the task of choosing a theme passing on to another member each time. Theme possibilities: dealing with burnout, critiquing your images, technical issues with earthenware, juggling caregiving and art-making, changing the narrative in your work. Please help get this rolling by stepping up to suggest a theme and sharing your resources for possible meeting locations and areas of expertise. Contact Colleen at eurekapots@gmail.com- please write 'salon' as the subject line.
